HAROLD WESLEY MELVIN

"What greater or better gift can we offer the republic than to teach and instruct our youth."

— Cicero

Dedic

IT IS A pleasure to dedicate the 1957 Cauldron to Harold W. Melvin a man who has devoted 37 years to the service of Northeastern University. This year brought to a close but one phase of his long career—that of Dean of Students, a position he held for 28 years. The Dean will now concentrate upon his duties as Professor of English.

Dean Melvin, a resident of Milton, graduated Phi Beta Kappa, from Boston University in 1915 with a bachelor of arts degree in English and History; he also holds a Master's degree in English. He joined the University faculty in 1920 as an instructor in English and a year later was appointed assistant professor and chairman of the department, a position he held until 1943. In 1922, the Dean was appointed full professor and in 1926 became Director of Student Activities. In 1929, he became the first Dean of Students.

His many activities extend beyond the University in civic, literary and educational organizations. He is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English, the Modern Language Association, the College English Association, both the National and the Eastern Associations of Deans of Men, the Massachusetts Civic League, and the Masons. For 25 years, he has been treasurer of the New England Poetry Club.

The Dean is a noted scholar of Shakespeare, a course he has taught for many years at Northeastern. In addition to his American literature and Shakespeare courses, he will teach a new course on the understanding and appreciation of poetry.

The Dean will be remembered by the graduating class for his enthusiasm for all phases of university life, for his boundless energy, for his good nature, for his personal interest in the students. For these reasons, this volume is dedicated to Harold W. Melvin, with the knowledge that his experience and wisdom will continue to be a vital part of Northeastern University.

THIRTY-EIGHT years ago Joseph Spear came to the New England Co-operative College of Engineering, which consisted of three small rooms in the YMCA, as an assistant professor of mathematics. One year later, in 1920, he became the Chairman of the Department. This year he retired from that capacity at the same school, but now called Northeastern University.

"Joe" Spear has been described by many of his colleagues as a mathematical hurricane who can make even a backward student pay attention and learn to like his class. He loves teaching, mathematics, and people, and found all three of them here.

Prof. Spear, now living in Brighton, was born in Boston's West End in 1891. He went to grammar school at Phillips on Beacon Hill until his family moved to Malden. He graduated from Malden High School in 1909 and went on to receive his AB degree from Harvard in 1913, and did graduate work at Harvard and Boston University. In 1933 he received his master's degree from Boston University.

He found his home among the students at the University. He was made the first Director of Student Activities and used the position to establish extra-curricular activities on a sound basis. The Northeastern Band, a number of other musical organizations, and several of the first fraternities were products of his versatile mind.

Athletics at the school have always been a major interest to the busy math professor. He has seldom, if ever, missed a Husky football game. Track and field are his main interests in the athletic field, however. For several years he has been the clerk at both the BAA and K of C track meets in Boston Garden.

He is a member of the American Mathematical Society, the Mathematical Society of America, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Association of Teachers of Mathematics in New England, the American Society of Engineering Education, and the 301st Field Artillery Association.

To "Joe" Spear, and a strong nucleus of loyal faculty members like him who have remained at the University through the years and are still teaching today, belongs much of the credit for the true "spirit of Northeastern"—a spirit not only symbolic of the rapid growth of the college, but to a large extent, also responsible for it.

"Those having torches will pass them on to others."

JOSEPH SPEAR

President's Message

To the Class of 1957:

I am happy to have the opportunity through the pages of the Cauldron to congratulate each of you upon the completion of your college work and to wish for you a bright future filled with happiness and achievement.

As I write this message, the Commencement Exercises yesterday in the Boston Garden are very clear in my mind. You, like other classes which have gone out from Northeastern University, reached your goal through diligent hours of study, varied experience in Co-operative Work assignments, and, on many occasions, great personal sacrifice.

In this general pattern of college life, you have shared with those classes which have gone before and the many which will follow you, but as members of the Class of 1957 you are as unique in the life of your Alma Mater as are the individuals which make up any family group.

You will find recorded in this Cauldron the history of your undergraduate life — incidents and experiences which will mean much to you in the years to come and which will enrich your memories as the years move on.

Those of us at the University who remain as faculty members or in other capacities bid you farewell now and will welcome you back as you return to visit Northeastern.

We are especially happy to welcome you into the larger University relationship where, as alumni, you will give Northeastern its continuity. You will represent N.U. everywhere in the land; you will mark the standard of conduct and the level of achievement of the University.

One of our contemporary poets has written the lines:
"Lend me the stone strength of the past, and I will lend you the wings of the future."

Northeastern, standing on the foundation stone of the past, will continue to grow as its physical needs are met and its ideals achieved. It must certainly grow in endowment and continue to improve its educational standards and its service to youth and to the community.

My wish for you, the members of the Class of 1957, is that the education and experience which you have already gained may mark the starting point from which the wings of the future will carry you to heights far beyond your fondest dreams.

In Memoriam

GEORGE WESLEY TOWLE

June 10, 1889 — July 26, 1957

Professor George Towle, recently retired from the Department of Co-operative Work, faithfully served Northeastern University for thirty-one years.

Joining the Northeastern family in 1923, Professor Towle saw a total of fifty co-operative employing firms rise to more than six hundred.

He was a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, class of 1912.
He was associated with the Roxbury Boys' Club from 1917-1919.

A member of the American Society for Engineering Education, the Engineering Societies of New England, Society for the Advancement of Management, Professor Towle also served as faculty adviser to Nu Epsilon Zeta fraternity.

A man of genial personal qualities and great capacity for friendships, he was much beloved by the hundreds of students who came under his counselling as undergraduates on the co-operative plan.

Even though retired, Professor George Wesley Towle's presence from the Northeastern family will be sorely missed.

Requiescat in pace.

Class History

FRESHMAN YEAR

It all started on a September day in 1952. That was enrollment day for 1075 freshmen of the Class of 1957. The Northeastern University that greeted them that day was a much different one from the one they were to leave on a June day five years later. That fall saw the dedication of the Library Building and the beginning of construction on a long-awaited Physical Education Center. Northeastern was expanding rapidly, and not only in its physical plant for President Ell announced that a College of Education would soon be established.

The freshman year was an eventful one. King Husky IV was crowned amidst accompanying pomp and circumstance while a thousand students looked on. Dr. William C. White was named to succeed retiring Vice-President Everett Churchill. To say that Dr. Churchill was in charge of the building program at Northeastern is all that need be said. The results of his efforts remain behind him to provide sufficient testimony to his untiring work on behalf of the University.

In a move that attracted little attention at the time, Coach Zebilski announced the shift of one Sid Watson from a guard position to fullback. "Century Sid" Watson was to set a school record for yards gained rushing one year later. Professor Eugene J. Blackman, director of the Silver Masque, announced that My Sister Eileen would be the dramatic group's first production of the student year.

The R.O.T.C. scheduled its first Military Ball for February. The big event featured Cindy Lord as an honorary colonel. Dr. Gilbert Garland was named to head up the Admissions Department, and the football team wound up the season with a 4 and 3 record.

In the winter elections, Joe Higgins beat out Fred Shea by a 184-133 margin, and Ray Pickard, one of the finest collegiate goalies anyone has seen was sparking the Husky icemen to some spendid hockey.

Continuing a long tradition of fine drama, the Silver Masque performed The Night of January 16 in Alumni Auditorium.

On the unpleasant side, a tuition increase was announced to the then preposterous figure of $220 a term for Engineers, and $200 for non-Engineers.

For the first time in its history, the Cauldron was entered in the National Yearbook Competition, an indication of the rapid strides the yearbook was to take in the years just ahead.

Jack Lapsley was named captain of the Husky gridsters for the 1953 season at the annual football banquet, and Dr. Ell announced plans to double the size of the bookstore. For the second successive season, Ray Pickard was named to the All-American Hockey Team.

The spring elections saw all three upperclass presidents repeat as Thomas Barrett, Bill Murphy, and Joe Kirk returned to office.

Alumni Day at Northeastern and the cornerstone was laid for the new Physical Education Center, while at Symphony Hall, at the Annual Alumni Convocation, Governor Christian A. Herter was urging a more active interest in government.

A very entertaining musical charmed audiences at the Silver Masque's presentation of Finian's Rainbow, another feather in the cap of the dramatic group.

The university was shocked and saddened at the sudden loss of a man who had been dear to a generation of students, Professor Winthrop E. Nightingale, director of the Department of Co-operative Work, who died suddenly.

The University Board of Trustees announced that the Law School was to be closed, while Professor Joseph Crane was named to succeed Dean Nicholson as Dean of the Law School in the interim.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Veterans began to reappear in great numbers as the Class of 1958 registered in September of 1953. Of the 1400 freshmen who registered, some 300 were veterans, mostly of the Korean War.

Professor Roy Woolridge was appointed director of the Department of Co-operative Work. In another faculty change, the Engineers had a new dean, as Professor Alfred Ferretti replaced Dean William Alexander, who was granted a year's leave of absence to do research at Du Pont.

Sid Watson starred in the varsity football opener, but despite the spectacular efforts of "Century Sid," Rhody won 13 to 7. Coach Zabilski's team shrugged off the setback and went on to win all of the remaining games.

Professor Everett C. Marston, adviser to the North-eastern News and the Cauldron, had his first novel, Take the High Ground, ready for publication. Colonel Price was honored at a colorful farewell review, and Colonel Harris succeeded him as Military Science Director. Professor Sidney Herman became the adviser to the Husky Key, succeeding Professor Frank Lee.

Coach Jerry Tatton's Husky harriers scored an impressive 50 to 15 victory over Tufts, to become North-eastern's first undefeated team. The Tatton men lost in the New England's despite a great individual effort by Ed Shea. In football, Coach Zabilski won the Coach of the Year Award, and Watson and Ryan were elected to captain the 1954 gridsters.

United State Senator John F. Kennedy was the speaker at the year's second convocation. The popular young Senator spoke out against voter apathy.

The Student Council suspended the Who's Who, but continued its efforts to select a new Alma Mater. The R.O.T.C. set up plans to establish a Scabbard and Blade

Students browse through the first floor stacks.

MIDDLER YEAR

The year got off to a spirited start when a band of N.U. hopefuls abducted the Rhode Island mascot, a ram, and held him captive for over a week. A little investigation by the University revealed PBA as the ram-nappers. Rhody avenged itself by once again topping N.U. in the varsity grid opener.

The rapidly expanding university physical plant reached another long-awaited goal with the opening of the ultra-modern Physical Education Center. Dr. Ell's announcement that the Sylvania building was to be remodeled for educational purpose indicated that the dynamic building program at Northeastern University was to be continued.

Dr. Russell J. Humbert, President of DePau University, Dr. Ell's alma mater, was speaker at the season's opening convocation.

The football rallies were moved into the new cage. On the gridiron itself, Captain Sid Watson was off to another spectacular season. Sid ground a record breaking number of yards as the Z-men romped over UMass, 39 to 0.

A puppy nearly stole the show as the Silver Masque opened its season with a stellar performance of The Barretts of Wimpole Street.

Gene Renzi and Tom Lacey were elected captains of the football and cross country teams, respectively. The footballers lost the season's finale, a 20 to 19 heartbreaker to the UConns to finish with a 4 and 3 record.

on December 4, 1954, with Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, President of Harvard University, delivering the main address.

The five-man class board system went into effect as the year, 1955, became a reality. Senior Class President Harry Watts stated that it was "a step toward a complete democracy in student government."

The new year was greeted with scores of activities, including a blood drive sponsored by the Student Union, the Masque's presentation of The Male Animal, and one of the biggest publicity campaigns ever seen at N.U. featuring the Sophomore-Middler Prom, "Mood Indigo." The successes of the month of January were topped by the announcement that a new Classroom-Laboratory Building was on the drawing boards and construction would begin in the spring.

Pat Roche starred in a Tufts College presentation of Picnic, and here at N.U., the Masque was rehearsing for Paint Your Wagon, a musical which was to be attended by a recordbreaking 2500 and amaze the audience with its professional calibre.

The Ski Carnival overflowed Spruce Mountain Lodge. Ed Ayres became the first N.U. hoopster to score more than 400 points, and Iron Man Bob Lally completed a string of 75 consecutive hockey games.

The R.O.T.C. Ball overflowed the Sheraton Plaza, and "Mood Indigo" drew a capacity throng to the Hotel Continental.

Two former Northeastern stars, John "Tinker" Connelly and James Bell, were appointed varsity baseball and hockey coaches, respectively. The new appointments were necessitated by the promotion of Professor Herbert Gallagher to the head of N.U.'s rapidly expanding physical education department. Also on the sports page was the announcement of the election of Dick Brooks to the captaincy of the basketball team and George Buckley to lead the hockey team. Northeastern's two winningest runners, Ed Shea and Dick Ollen, closed their brilliant college careers.

The Middlers began a drive to raise funds to dedicate a room in the Classroom-Laboratory Building to the memory of their late classmate, James R. Connors.

The Student Union Lounge became the David F. Edwards Lounge.

The Silver Masque's final performance of the season, My Three Angels, climaxed another successful year for Professor Blackman's troupe. Tom Walsh and Sona Norian were recipients of "Eugenes" as the Masque's top actor and actress of the year.

The Eason twins, Don and Ron, and Dick Carter were selected for the Greater Boston All-Star Team. Bob Ercolini was elected as captain of the '56 baseball team, Charlie Miller was named Athlete of the Year, and Bob Heford won the News M.I.P. award.

JUNIOR YEAR

September at N.U. brought another harvest of bright, young, expectant faces. This year, 1320 freshmen registered. Space in the parking lot and in the commons was at a premium.

As is the case every fall, the football team stole the spotlight from all other student activities. This year was an outstanding one for Husky football fans, for after a 13-13 tie against Rhode Island in the opener, they saw their favorites go undefeated until the final game when they were beaten by a classy UMass eleven to close the season with a 4-1-1 record. Captain Gene Renzi led the Huskies in the field while fullback Phil Bucalo was one of the nation's leaders in the all-important ground gaining department.

The Husky Key came up with a colorful new idea when it announced plans to sponsor a Mayor of Huntington Avenue election. The idea called for the election of a student mayor on a basis of purchased votes. "Honest Pete" Moloney was the first Mayor of Huntington Avenue, carried into office by a wave of believers in his poignant slogan, "More Boloney with Moloney."

Everybody gets into the act to help break ground for Hayden Hall.

Before long the steel framework was up, and then . . .

The Silver Masque presented Ab, Wilderness! to capacity crowds at Alumni Auditorium.

The time of year had come for the annual sports awards, and Don Eason, Phil Bucalo, Charlie Miller, Eddie Ayres, and Richie Cavanaugh received most valuable player awards for baseball, football, track, basketball and hockey respectively.

The final cornerstone was laid for the Classroom-Laboratory Building, the latest edition to the twelve million dollar original quadrangle.

Sid Watson made the grade as a professional football player as fullback for the Pittsburgh Steelers and somehow managed the amazing feat of carrying a full B.A. curriculum between flights back and forth to the National Football League cities.

In the December elections, Don Micale, Walter Lee, and Sidney Freeman were elected to the Student Council to represent the Class of 1957 in student politics.

The Silver Masque treated drama-lovers to another sparkling performance when they presented Arthur Miller's gripping All My Sons.

A feud flared up between rebellious elements in class government and Student Council authority over a matter of constitutional law regarding the regulation of Class Board activities.

The News began to sponsor weekly press conferences and it introduced a new feature section and a cross-word puzzle.

Popular Bob Kates was re-elected as Student Council President.

A sellout audience thrilled to the Masque's presentation of Rodgers & Hammerstein's South Pacific, comparing it favorably with the original long-run Broadway production.

Unexpected but welcome were the March blizzards that forced the university to close its doors for the first time since "Hector was a pup."

Commissioner Ford Frick and many other notables appeared on the Huntington Avenue scene to aid in the dedication of a plaque at the Physical Education Center, commemorating the site on which the first World Series was played.

The new Classroom-Laboratory Building continued to take shape and remodeling was begun in Richards Hall to accommodate the changes necessitated by the two floor corridor to the new structure.

. . . it was a short wait for completion.

Everyone was pleased to learn that Senator Kennedy would be the speaker at the forthcoming commencement exercises.

The Class of 1957 held its Junior Dinner-Dance early in June, and the enjoyable affair filled the Sherry-Biltmore with a capacity crowd of 250 delighted couples. Engineer Bill Murphy's lovely date was chosen Prom Queen.

The Silver Masque put the stopper on another fine season with its production of the suspenseful Dial "M" for Murder.

SENIOR YEAR

The finale arrived with its usual hordes of new frosh, football games and fraternity foolery. A Dixieland jazz concert ushered in the contest for a Mayor of Huntington Avenue. Jack Griffin won the fund raising fete by selling more five cent votes than the other six contestants.

PBA had to share top honors with SPA in the kick-off football rally. In the sports opener, Rhody edged Northeastern 13-12 while Princess Shawnda reigned for her second year as mascot.

Bob Kates, Student Council prexy, was named cadet regimental commander of the Corps of cadets. SPA started moving into its new sixteen room house in Jamaica Plain.

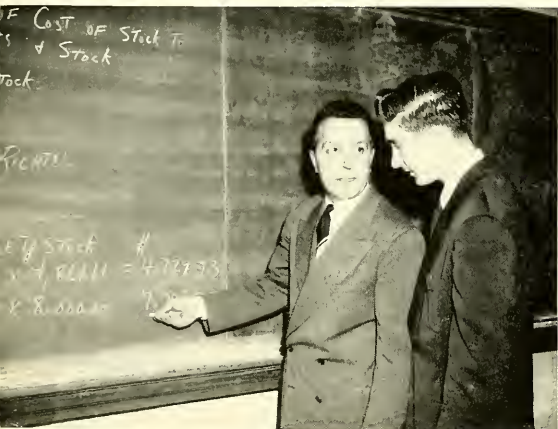

Politically, the International Relations Club celebrated its silver anniversary and the History-Government Department election poll picked Eisenhower and Whittier to win the fall elections.

The Silver Masque scored another hit with newcomer Charlie Bennett in the lead of Our Town. Later in the year, Director Blackman found himself with a new casting problem as two frosh co-eds vied for the lead in Kiss Me Kate.

The trustees announced the official names for Hayden Hall and the Godfrey Lowell Cabot Physical Education Center. The total acreage of the campus went to sixteen acres with the purchase of an apartment building on Forsyth Street.

Dean McDonald was named successor to retiring Dean of Students, Harold W. Melvin. Math Professor, Christopher Kennedy, became the new Dean of Freshmen.

AFCEA members produced a movie for their annual convention. The group was also cited as the outstanding chapter in the country. Sports enthusiasts breathed easier when Coach Zabilski refused Columbia's coaching offer.

The Class of 1957 prepared itself for Senior Week and Commencement. The final fling for the senior class would bring to an end the undergraduate careers of more than six hundred. At the same time, this festive week would begin a whole new life for these same graduates.

The Cauldron

With a successful fall yearbook to its credit as precedent, the Cauldron announced the 1957 edition would likewise be printed in the summer and distributed in the fall. There were only a few raised eyebrows at the announcement and very few reports of violence were received. Only three yearbook staffers were hanged as compared with eight last year.

Three replacements were found for the martyrs and were given hasty instructions on the art of concealing oneself. The wind up banquet for the '56 book doubled as the kickoff banquet for the '57 volume. An enthused staff left the dinner table shouting enthusiastic cries of "To hell with the budget, '57 will have the best."

No matter how often you warn them, they'll never learn. They spent their energy in hooting and hollering and were found the next morning asleep on the quadrangle.

Despite this set back, seniors began trickling down to Loring Studios. The class cabinet cracked the whip over delinquent seniors and division A turned in 100% records in many of the sections.

Just as the senior section started on the make-up phase, it was discovered that there were too many seniors. A quick check at the Registrar's office showed nearly a 25% increase in the size of the graduating class.

Revisions in the budget, changes in production

one hundred thirty-six schedules and several billion other details were accomplished in quick order — for us.

Plans were made for the senior supplement which had been such a success the previous year that Professor Marston, usually quite reserved, was moved to say: "... it was alright."

Soon the entire book is readied for the printers. Fortunately the people at the Warren Press have been endowed with a generous helping of extra sensory perception which keeps confusion to a minimum.

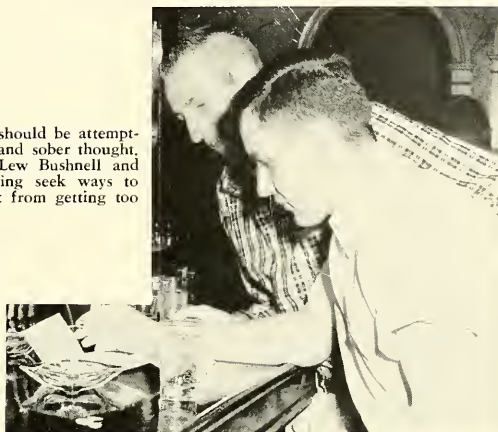

Then comes the paste pot stage when proofs must be pasted onto makeup pages. It is here that we find out that areas marked for seven inches of copy have only four inches of type to fill them and areas marked for three inches of copy are bursting with ten inches of lead.

The only drawback to publishing in the fall is that all this work must be done in August when the temptation to go to the beach is stronger than to work on a Cauldron or two. But, duty first (even if it must be with compromise) and the Cauldron is pasted up along the shores of Lake Ohforthedaysofthedimee (an Indian name?).

Soon the book is on the press and the editors are reveling in amazement while trying to convince the staff of the '58 Cauldron that theirs is an impossible task and should give up while there is still time.

ABC'S of Yearbook Production

PLANNING. No work should be attempted without some careful and sober thought. Here Business Manager Lew Bushnell and Associate Editor Matt Ring seek ways to keep the yearbook budget from getting too high.

SCHEDULING. It is important to establish an appropriate time schedule to avoid stuffing too much copy down printers throat at the wrong time. Editor-in-chief Jack Carp and Business Manager Bushnell make sure they are not biting off more than they can chew.

SUPERVISION. Never let your yearbook out of your sight. Aim for perfection and keep shooting for nothing less. Here Carp and Ring win a point with publisher Emil Bazy.

The News

Smooth sailing was enjoyed by the News this year—the twenty-eight editions came out as scheduled, the annual banquet at year's end was a complete success, and not a single editor found cause to retire.

In fact, it was such a peaceful year, completely devoid of Thursday afternoon "panics" and other catastrophes, that it has been reported that Professor Marston, our worthy adviser, gained several pounds during the year.

Division A again published special Freshman and Football issues, but were a little less revolutionary in the twelve-page supplementary editions, printing only two.

Division B boasted, as usual, of being more "typo-conscious" each week, doing a more professional job, and publishing a cleaner sheet than did Division A. 'Course, that's all a matter of opinion.

Midnight oil still burned in the offices at 307C this year on Tuesday nights. Editors found it more convenient and practical to operate on Tuesday nights than on Mondays, as had been the procedure for many years previously.

one hundred thirty-eight

Makeup nights were, as in previous years, punctuated by "eats on the News."

Division A, usually known for its proverbial fastness with the buck, sometimes toured the super markets and ate in the office, complete with hot plate. Almost everything appeared on the menu—everything from soup to nuts, mostly soup.

Division B, always known for its conservatism, occasionally encountered a catering service setting up for some banquet or other and leached enough food for a "community eat" in the News office.

November brought the highlight of the year as far as the Editor-in-chief, Assoc. E.I.C., and Busines Manager were concerned. Messrs. Kenny, Carp, and Tsoutsouras represented the News at the annual Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Cleveland. While all three raved about the hospitality of Cleveland, they agreed that there is no place like home for catching up on one's sleep.

The News' "Eugene" awards, given each year to five outstanding members of the Silver Masque, caused quite a stir, in addition to the "Eugene" certificates, awards ranging from a discarded overcoat once worn by the great John Barrymore, a deed to an island in the South Pacific, and a set of automobile keys (the car still hasn't turned up), were presented to the winners.

University-wise, the News continued to receive added recognition. Each division was tendered a dinner by President Carl S. Ell, at which Boston newspapermen were guest speakers.

At the annual banquet, News Achievement Awards were presented for the first time to the Editor-in-Chief, Associate-Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editors and Business Manager.

Towards the end of the year, Associate Collegiate Press released its first semester rating scores. The News had won another All American rating, the highest honor a college newspaper can achieve.

The ancient rite of framing the certificate and placing it reverently on the office wall was abandoned several years ago when room for the last 600 All American certificates was exhausted.

Despite perpetual complaints of overwork, underpay, fears of having cut too many classes and the penalties therefrom, and the lack of appreciation and recognition, another stalwart group of News devotees entered another successful year into the journal of time.

Silver Masque

Celebrating its fifth year under the guidance of Professor Eugene J. Blackman, the Silver Masque scored its most successful season on record.

Opening with Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's "You Can't Take It With You" on November 2 and 3, the Masque nearly packed the house both nights. The cast featured Joe Gallison, Pat Roche, Melanie Messer, Marguerite Derosier, Arlene Knudson, Jack Mullin, Don Shea, and Mary Alber.

Jim DeFelice got "raves" for his portrayal of Mr. De Pinna, an eccentric living in a house full of eccentrics.

January 11 and 12 brought the Masque's second success of the season in the guise of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize play, "Our Town." It also brought a newcomer to the fold, Charlie Bennett who copped the leading role in his first tryout.

Traditionally, the third show of the season is a musical. This year "Kiss Me Kate" was chosen as the season's most lavish (and hardest to get tickets to see) production. The Porter-Spewacks' musical sported a couple of more firsts for the Masque. For instance, all the costumes for the show were student designed and made with Mary Dawson leading the sewing circle; Frank Kulig became the first student conductor of the orchestra; the program was enlarged with great big colored blobs on the cover; and Pat Roche got his first musical lead.

Marsha Gatonska copped the leading feminine role after two weeks of trying. Winning featured parts were Fred Norris, Henrietta McKee, Don Stoddard, Don Wheaton, Bob Carroll, Bill Hatch. Janet Mosse stopped the show with "Always True to You Darlin'" even though fighting a bad case of laringitis.

The Two Gangsters, Joe Galison and newcomer, Bob Santis, nearly walked away with the show especially with "Brush Up Your Shakespeare."

The crew, led by former actor Charlie Devlin, did an amirable job with the colorful sets.

Closing out the 1956-57 season, the Masque presented Norman Krasna's "John Loves Mary" on May 24 and 25.

News Editor, Ron Wysocki, presented the five annual Eugene awards at the Masque banquet. Joe Gallison received the Best Actor award for his performance in "You Can't Take It With You"; Marsha Gatonska was named Best Actress for "Kiss Me Kate"; Don Wheaton won the Best Supporting Actor Award for "Kiss Me Kate"; Melanie Messer was selected Best Supporting Actress for her part in "Our Town"; and the Outstanding Senior award went to Pat Roche for outstanding service to the Masque.

Mary Dawson won the University Achievement Award for her costuming efforts and Pat Roche won the other Achievement Award for his proficiency in acting.

The successful season is a tribute to the man whose efforts have sparked the Masque into such amazing growth during the past five years, Professor Blackman. The five annual News awards to the Masque bear his name as a reminder to those who come later of the man who made the Masque a success.

Initial production of the season was Kaufman & Hart's comedy, "You Can't Take It With You" (left). Second production was Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning "Our Town" (below).

First act finale of Cole Porter's musical hit, "Kiss Me Kate."

Closing out the season, the Masque presented, "John Loves Mary."

Alpha Psi Omega

Now ending its third year at Northeastern University, Alpha Psi Omega, the National Collegiate Honorary Dramatic Society, recognizes meritorious participation in college dramatics.

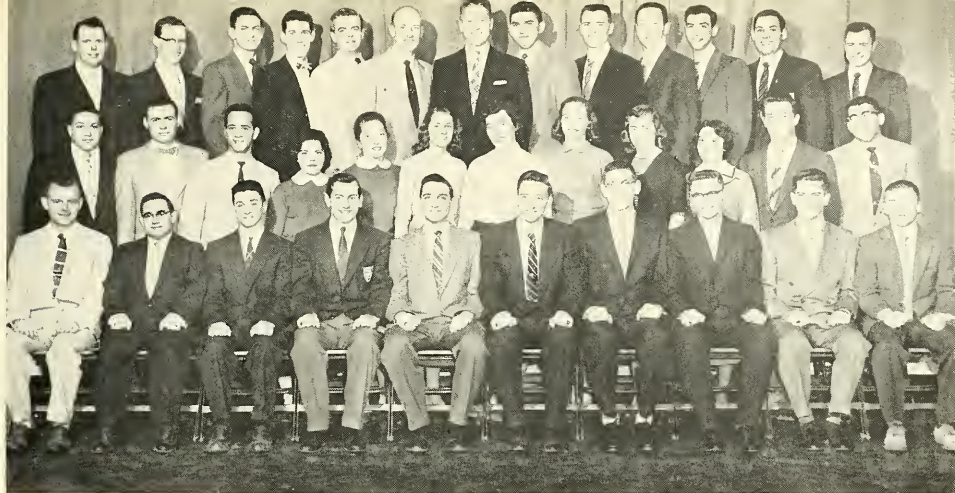

Since the Silver Masque received an invitation to join, as the Nu Chi Chapter of that organization, it has become the goal of every Masquer to become a member.

Under the advisorship of Professor Eugene J. Blackman, the group strives for perfection in the theatre. After becoming a member of the Silver Masque it takes a unanimous vote of the chapter to become a member of the society.

Senior Class Affairs

In the last year of undergraduate life, two groups of students gain special importance. They are the Senior Class Cabinet and the Senior Week Committee.

While the Cabinet is making plans to ensnare delinquent dues payments, the Senior Week Committee is making plans to spend them.

The Cabinet is comprised of the five elected officers from each division plus representatives from each academic section while the Senior Week Committee is appointed by the Cainer.

The University sets aside the fortieth academic week for the seniors and then sits back to see what the seniors will do with it.

This year, the Committee and Cabinet agreed on an all day beach party and dinner dance at Magnolia to kick-off the June 10-16 week of festivities. Following this was another beach party at Norumbega Park on Tuesday with a roller skating party at night. Wednesdays' activities included a beach party at Crane's Beach during the day followed by the Castle Hill Jazz Concert in the evening.

Thursday was recuperating day with the moonlight cruise at night. Friday night was the Senior Prom at the beautiful, but warm, Louis XIV Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset.

Saturday was reserved for section activities and Sunday concluded the five year tenure for the Class of 1957 with the Commencement Ceremonies at the Boston Garden.

Success of the Committee and Cabinet's efforts during the year can be summed up by saying: Senior Week was a huge success.

The 1957 Cauldron proudly announces its choices for

Advisers of the Year

EUGENE J. BLACKMAN

Adviser to the Silver Masque, Professor Blackman has revived what had been a struggling and mediocre dramatics club.

His keen sense of humor and warm personality have built up the largest membership the Masque has ever enjoyed.

This enthusiasm, radiated beyond the footlights, has drawn an audience following that soon threatens to overflow Alumni Auditorium.

He was especially selected this year on the occasion of his fifth anniversary as Silver Masque Adviser.

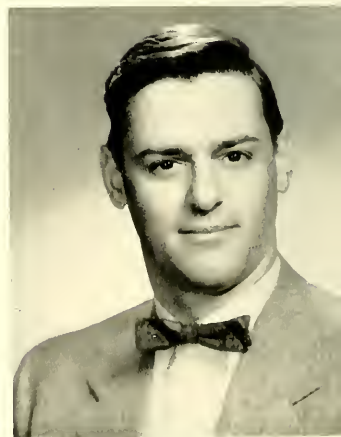

CARLO E. GUBELLINI

Adviser to the Class of 1957, Professor Gubellini has been responsible for much of the success of the senior class in all its affairs since its freshman year.

A Northeastern Alumnus himself, Professor Gubellini knows first hand the problems of the students and is able to anticipate them.

He was especially selected this year on the occasion of the graduation of "his" class.

Husky Key

Dr. White casts his vote for Mayor of Huntington Ave.

First activity to get organized in August is the Freshman Night Show Committee of the Husky Key. Throwing together the annual frosh welcoming show gives the Key the quick jump it needs to start the eager frosh joining the many activities which the University offers.

The Key, devoted to raising school spirit on campus, organizes and runs the football rallies.

Highlight of the year's activities is the mock election of the Mayor of Huntington Avenue. A ballot box stuffing event, the annual election is characterized by impromptu rallies on the quad and in the Commons. Ballots are sold for a nickel with proceeds going to the Classroom-Laboratory fund. A voter can buy as many ballots as he can afford.

A record vote elected Jack Griffin successor to the first Mayor Pete Moloney.

Near the end of the first term the Key sponsors the Fall Sports Dance, second only in size to the Military Ball. This weekend usually includes the Annual Key Banquet.

The Key inaugurated a skiing party during the Winter term.

CHORAL SOCIETY

First row: Nahum, DiMilla, Berman, Williams, Prof. Keiser (adviser), McKee, Dardone, Mosse, Bernstein, Parrott, Zuffanti.
Second row: Millett, Puopolo, Erhard, Alden, Gay.

Choral Society

On Thursdays from 12-2 p.m., when you can hear the musical voice of Professor Tucker Keiser coming from 312C, you know that one of N.U.'s versatile groups is hard at work.

The Choral Society has increased in size and popularity, and "goes on the road" to perform with other choral groups at the various colleges as well as at Northeastern.

The Choral Society performs at Convocations, presents a full evening of entertainment for N.U. students during the year, and, at Christmas time, their singing adds to the holiday mood.

Omega Sigma Cabinet

The power behind the student body has always been in the hands of the men, but the girls are gaining a foothold. The purpose of the Omega Sigma Cabinet is to acquaint the new girls with Northeastern's ways.

The cabinet plans yearly activities of pre-freshman teas, coke parties, a Career Confab, a mother-daughter tea, and the annual prom.

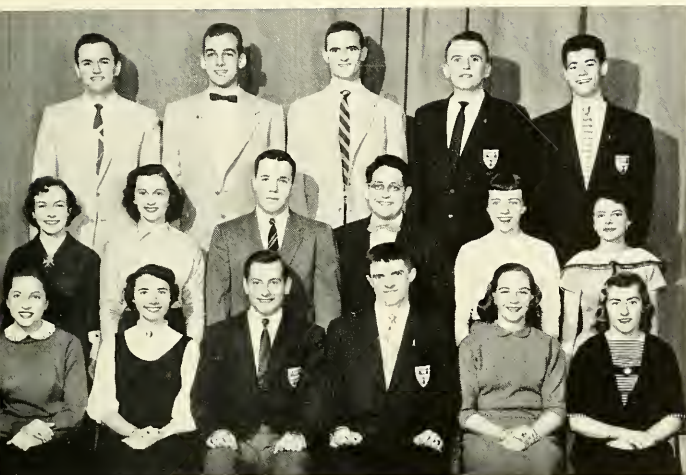

With an eye for building school spirit, O. S. sponsored a free record-hop for the first time.

Faculty adviser is Dean of Women Myra L. Herrick.

Husky Highlighters

"This is your noon-day edition of Husky Highlights." These familiar words are heard every day in the Commons. Valiant voices thunder over the moving chairs, the rustling lunch bags, and the perpetual chatter to bring to the students news of campus activities.

This year, "three missionaries" in each division brought the students a new show called "Campus Matinee." The show, broadcast every afternoon from 1:15 to 1:45, offered swing, calypso and jazz.

Dean of Students, Harold W. Melvin, originated the broadcasting idea nearly eleven years ago and has remained the adviser ever since.

Cheerleaders

Vitality and school spirit are the moving forces behind N.U.'s team of cheerleaders. The rousing enthusiasm which they give to the fans helps North-eastern's athletes to fight on to victory.

Coaches and players are ever thankful for this squad of energetic and talented cheerleaders, which represents the paramount qualities that are ever present on the N.U. scene.

With interest mounting each year in the cheerleading squad, prospective members are allowed to join only after competitive try-outs.

CHEERLEADERS

POLITICAL SOCIETY

First row: Baer, Holsberg, Szymczak, Coughlin, O'Connell, Second row: Deranian, Gray, Wheelwright, Lloyd.

Political Society

The newest addition to the Northeastern family of clubs is the Political Society. The group, headed by Prof. Raymond Robinson of the History-Government department, became the most talked about club at the University by bringing many outstanding guest speakers to their meetings.

Among them were Ex-Governor Paul A. Dever, Speaker of the House John E. Powers, and former Medford City Manager, James Shurtleff.

Debating Society

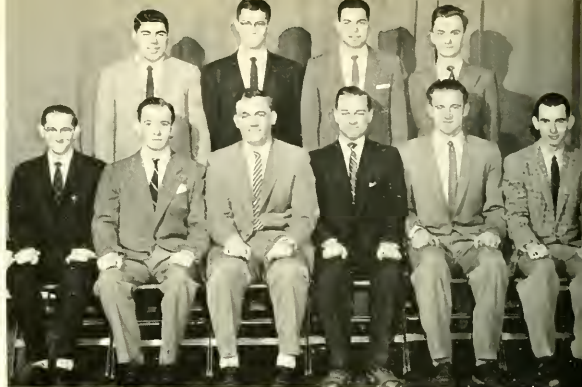

Name any topic of local, national or international interest, and the N.U. Debating Society has discussed it at length at one of its functions. The group's meetings may take the form of a forum, panel, or round-table discussion.

The society is open to all university students who possess a strong voice and an unabridged dictionary. Enthusiasts are guaranteed lots of activity.

Among the many exciting events of the society is an annual debate with the United States Military Academy.

DEBATING SOCIETY

Fishman, Coakley, Major, Janey.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

First row: Norlan, Lloyd, Coughlin, Wheelwright, Szymczak, Gray. Second row: Holsberg, Bowles, Baer, Kusmirek.

International Relations Club

The purpose of the International Relations Club is to help prepare its members to better understand the problems that have arisen in the world today.

A member of the American Association for the United Nations and affiliated with I.R.C. groups in other colleges, the N.U. Chapter is led by Prof. Robert G. Wilfong of the History-Government Department.

Discussions and debates intermingled with speeches by local and national figures are featured at the bi-monthly meetings.

Radio Club

Amateur "hams" have the opportunity to continue their radio activities through W1KBN, Northeastern's Radio Club. Although the group recently moved into new quarters in Hayden Hall, their many transmitters are still located in the penthouse atop Richard's Hall.

Code and theory instructions are provided for those who wish to obtain amateur radio operators' licenses. Members carry on contact with amateur operations throughout the United States and Europe.

Student Council

Under its new constitution, the Student Council has furthered its objective of maintaining communications between the administration and the student body, as well as acting as the chief student legislative and governing body.

Members of the council continued their work seeking a solution to the ever-present parking problems and handled several disturbances among class governments.

Both divisions got together in joint meetings regularly and settled common problems and established new policies.

In addition to their usual legislative duties, the Councilors are called upon to usher at convocation and help out whenever impartiality is needed such as in the annual Mayoralty Campaign.

Student Union

Under the guidance of the SU's Chapel Committee, non-sectarian services are held every Wednesday in the beautiful Bacon Memorial Chapel. Well known religious leaders render their services to help the students in their everyday problems.

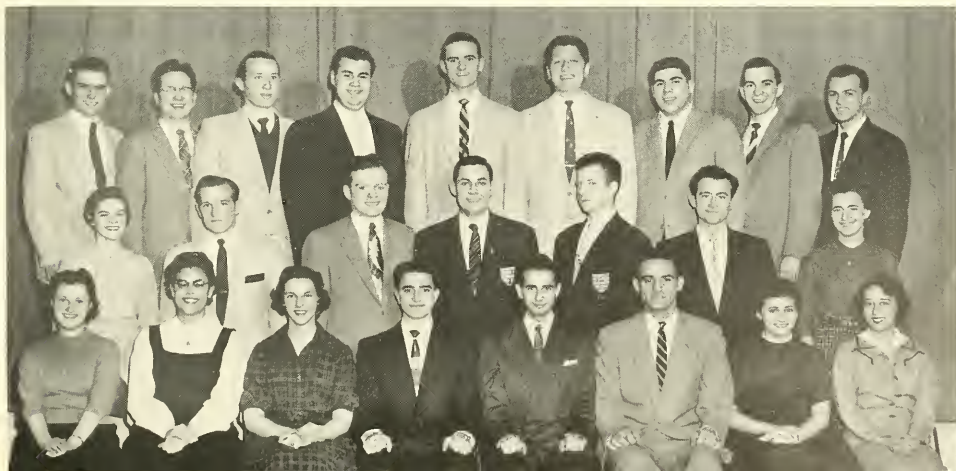

Within the university, the union maintains both the Edwards and Mitton Lounges for students and keeps them well stocked with the last issues of all popular magazines.

A second home is provided for the S.U. members by their adopted mother, Mrs. Ethel B. Chartier. "Ma" watches over her family with the sternness of a queen, but with a love only she can give.

Prof. Lloyd Skiffington, adviser to the spirited group, leads the activities from the serenity of the inner office. He quietly endures all the noise, chatter, and gossip that fills the air at noon along with the cold winter winds that blow through the windows, opened for the annual Christmas carols.

DANCE BAND

Dance Band

Gaining popularity each year since its revival, the N.U. Dance Band is finally gaining recognized status on campus. Tiring of doing nothing but rehearse two days a week led the group to inaugurate a series of afternoon dances in 20C during the lunch and activity hours.

Groups on campus who run dances have begun to turn to the official N.U. music makers to provide the chords.

Adviser to the group is Professor Laurence Capon of the English Department who is the University Organist.

Art Club

Revived after an absence of several years, the Art Club has surged off to a fast new start. Partially aided by their new quarters on the fourth floor of Hayden Hall and by the enthusiastic interest of Professor George Meserve, faculty adviser, the group has enjoyed an active and successful year.

Besides watching "Lust For Life" several hundred times, club members actually paint at meetings while other members offer comments on the work.

Professor Holden of the Art Department aids Prof. Meserve in advising the group.

Professional Societies

Business and engineering students are able to round out their careers by the enlistment of the eleven Professional and one Engineering Co-ordinating Societies on the Northeastern Campus.

Chapters of the American Marketing Association, the Society for the Advancement of Management, the Accounting Society, the American Finance Association, and the Advertising Club represent means for business students to further their professional development by studying practical problems and listening to industrial leaders discuss the problems facing their respective fields.

Provided for the Engineers with the same purpose are the Civil Engineering Society, the American Chemical Society, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Institute of Mechanical Engineers, the American Institute of Industrial Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

The R.O.T.C. sponsors a chapter of the Society of American Military Engineers for all members of the Engineering College.

All of the societies are represented in a co-ordinating group called the Engineering Council of Northeastern University, which was originated less than three years ago.

The Advertising Club provides its members with an opportunity to become acquainted with actual mechanical problems involved in the advertising field. This is accomplished through field trips, films, guests from industry, and the club service of publicizing and promoting all university events.

The American Finance Association chapter specializes in fields of investments and insurance. Films and guests provide the first hand information.

The American Marketing Association chapter aims to promote a wider interest in the numerous areas of the general marketing profession.

The Society for the Advancement of Management brings to its members many practical problems that have been or are being solved by present day management.

One of the largest groups at Northeastern is the Civil Engineering Society. Now publishing its own Newsletter, the society is one of the most active on campus.

Similarly, problems and developments of specific interest to other engineering curricula as well as chemistry are discussed and illustrated at meetings of the respective societies.

Honor Societies

Each year, honor students in the various colleges of the university are selected to one of the five honor societies. The main purpose of the societies is to reward those students who have shown superior academic progress through their college careers.

The five societies include Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, and Eta Kappa Nu, which cater to the College of Engineering; The Sigma Society, for students in the College of Business Administration; and The Academy, for the College of Liberal Arts.

Tau Beta Pi initiates members for the general engineering honor society twice yearly at banquet meetings.

Pi Tau Sigma, Mechanical Engineering Honor Society, admits outstanding junior and senior Mechanical Engineering students. Besides the regular business of the society, several projects during the year are sponsored.

Eta Kappa Nu, the Electrical Engineering Honor Society, is the newest of the honor societies, being chartered in 1950. It admits outstanding junior and senior Electrical Engineers each year.

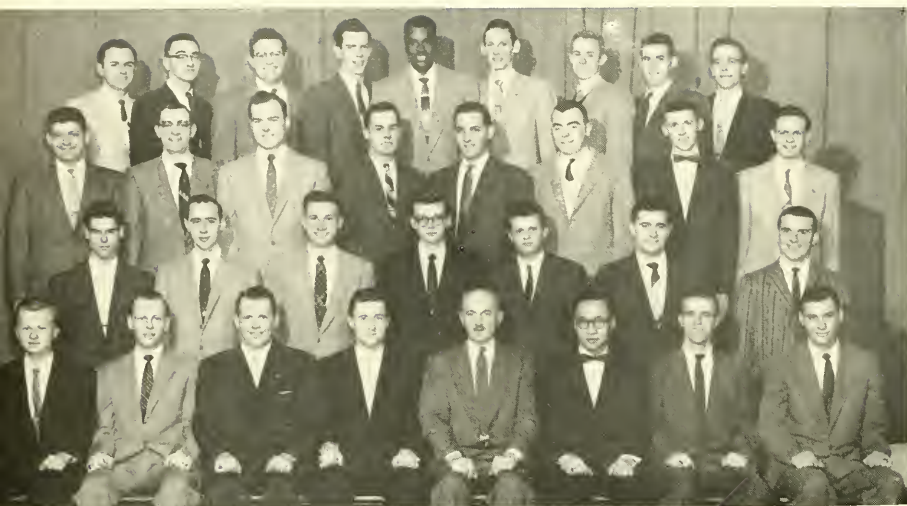

The Sigma Society Honor Society of the College of Business Administration, recognizes high academic standing, character, and professional promise. It promotes the educational interest of business students, and it awards an annual scholarship to the top ranking business freshman.

The Academy admits those Liberal Art students who are in the upper ten percent of their class. Initiations are held twice yearly, and, as with the College of Business Administration, it awards an annual scholarship to the top ranking Liberal Arts freshman.

R. O. T. C.

Now in its sixth successful year, the R.O.T.C. program has become an integral part of Northeastern and one of the more outstanding military units in the country.

Boasting the fifth largest Military Science program, and the largest Advanced Course enrollment in the entire United States the N.U. unit graduates the second highest number of officers.

Comprised of both Signal Corps and Corps of Engineers cadets, the program has over 2100 voluntary participants. This makes it the largest voluntary group in the country. The Signal Corps enrollment is also the largest in the United States.

The present Commanding Officer, Colonel M. D. Harris, succeeded Colonel Howard E. Price, the unit's first commander, in 1954.

Every year, two of the outstanding R.O.T.C. cadets are invited to the United States Military Academy at West Point for a week. During this time, the students live exactly as the cadets, including observing rules and regulations of the Academy and attending classes.

The R.O.T.C. also sponsors many activities including student chapters of the Pershing Rifles, Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association, Military Affiliated Radio System, Society of American Military Engineers, Scabbard and Blade Society, the Rifle Clubs, the Band, and the Military News Movie.

Review Parades in each division honor those cadets who are outstanding on the drill field and in academic work.

The highlight of the military social season comes at the annual Military Ball. Sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade Society, the event has always drawn a record number of cadets. The 1957 Ball, held February 15, nearly overflowed the main ballroom of the Sherry Biltmore Hotel.

National recognition was gained this year when the Northeastern Student Chapter of the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association was named Outstanding Chapter of the Year. The competition was with professional as well as student chapters.

A large measure of the group's success was due to the showing of a twenty minute sound movie which was written, produced and directed by A.F.C.E.A. members. The film was premiered at the parent organization's national convention at Washington, D.C. in May.

Fraternities

There are at present nine local Greek letter fraternities chartered by Northeastern. Each fraternity is provided with a faculty adviser who is responsible for the proper administration of the fraternity by its members.

Elected representatives from each fraternity make up an Inter-Fraternity Council, a body which has preliminary jurisdiction over fraternity regulations. Its rulings, however, are subject to the approval of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities. The Council plans interfraternity sports programs, the IFC Dance, and the annual pre-Christmas party for the benefit of needy children at Boston City Hospital.

Alpha Kappa Sigma fraternity is located in a spacious southern styled mansion in Jamaica Plain. Like all fraternities at N.U., AKS is active in sports, with basketball and bowling being the most popular.

Beta Gamma Epsilon, the oldest fraternity at Northeastern, is housed within walking distance of the school. All members of BGE are Engineering students.

Kappa Zeta Phi, one of the three houseless fraternities at Northeastern annually holds a dance, the proceeds from which go to the Marvin Gutrin Scholarship Award fund. This award is presented to the most deserving undergraduate brother on the basis of scholarship, fraternity activities, school activities and general fraternalism.

Always active in fraternity sports, members and pledges of Gamma Phi Kappa are kept in condition by painting and redecorating their house, a sprawling mansion conveniently located on Greenough Street, Brookline.

Nu Epsilon Zeta members who are winter sports minded will have no trouble being kept busy during their favorite time of the year. Active in IFC sports, NEZ is especially keen on skiing and several ski weekends are held during the winter months.

Phi Gamma Pi, the closest house to N.U.'s football field in Brookline, has the chore of erecting all sorts of floats and statues prior to all home games. Nearly all who attend the games on Kent Street are amused by PGP's artistic and sadistic talents—all that is, except members of the visiting team.

Phi Beta Alpha, long associated with the News, Cauldron, Silver Masque and Student Council is noted for its campus leadership. A homeless fraternity by choice, PBA still adheres to the practice of not restricting membership because of race, religion or course of study.

Social activities, including an annual Halloween party and Senior banquet, play an important part in the fraternities existence.

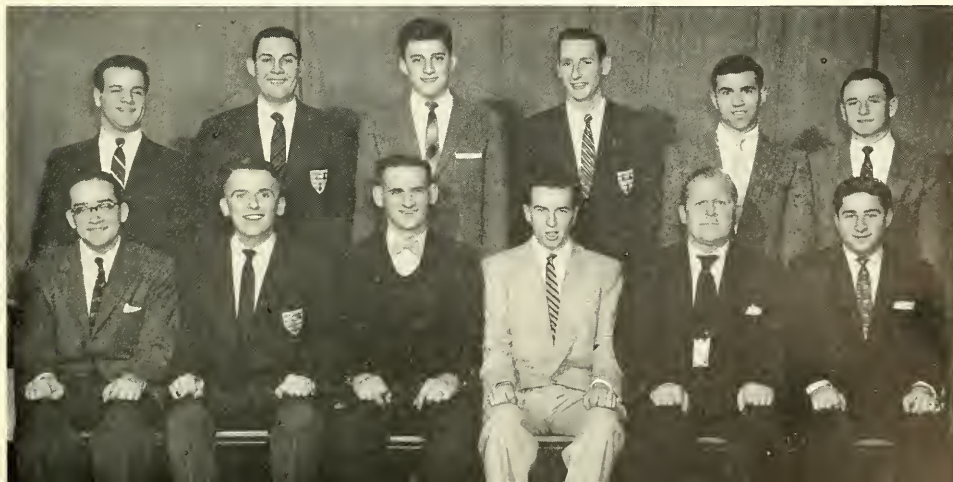

This year marked the formation of the official PBA Alumni Corporation dedicated to serving graduate and undergraduate activities.

Sigma Phi Alpha, who has just joined the ranks of "house" fraternities with their home on Greenough Avenue, has long rivaled PBA as the most active fraternity on campus. SPA, also, does not restrict membership because of race, religion, or course of study.

Another commuters' fraternity, Sigma Kappa Psi, annually honors one of its former brothers. Since 1945, the SKP boys have awarded the Richard M. Horowitz Scholarship to one of its present brothers who is outstanding in initiative, leadership, and scholarship. The fraternity holds a dance annually to raise the money for the Award.

Football

By JACK DRISCOLL

They won only three games out of eight.

They were held scoreless two Saturdays in a row, three times in all.

They had the first losing season in the nine-year coaching regime of Joe Zabalski.

They were lacking in material, especially on the bench.

That was the story of the Northeastern University football Huskies during the 1956 season. Yet there were no complaints about them being "bums." In fact most close observers were surprised they did so well.

Here is a rundown of the season's record:

| N.U. Score | | Opponent's Score |
|------------|---------------|------------------|
| 12 | Rhode Island | 13 |
| 26 | Bridgeport | 15 |
| 0 | Springfield | 26 |
| 0 | A.I.C. | 6 |
| 32 | Hofstra | 12 |
| 6 | Massachusetts | 12 |
| 19 | Brandeis | 13 |
| 0 | Connecticut | 26 |

It will be noted that Northeastern lost to Rhode Island by one point in the season's opener and to A.I.C. and Massachusetts by only six points each.

The other two games were lost by big scores, but one hundred sixty-eight

the Huskies were anything but outclassed. A few breaks here and there—the details of which will be pointed out later—and they could have pulled a pair of major upsets.

But "if's" don't count in football, or in any other sport. As the story goes, golfer Lloyd Mangrum once sank a putt that curled around the lip and hung on the lip a few seconds before dropping in. His opponent said something like, "Hey, Lloyd, you really don't think that's fair, do you?"

Mangrum scooped his ball out of the hole, turned to his opponent and smiled, "It isn't 'how', it's 'how many'."

A trio of N.U. players gained post-season recognition for their outstanding play.

They came from all directions to down the foe.

The mayor of Huntington Avenue leads the way.

Junior center Bobo Lyons picked up the most honors. He was named "Center of the Week" by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference for his performance in the Bridgeport game and also named to the first team of the All-East eleven picked by the E.C.A.C., which has 105 colleges and universities as members.

Lyons made the Boston Globe's All-New England team, as well as other New England and all-opponent teams.

But he disappointed the professional scouts. They were licking their chops over him when they discovered he was only a junior and they would have to wait another year before they could add him to their ranks.

When the season was over, Captain Don Johanson, an excellent leader and a guard who was immense on offense and defense, was picking up quite a reputation as an after-dinner speaker—between hockey games.

Johanson was honored at several banquets, the most noteworthy being the B'nai B'rith Sports Lodge dinner at which the top six senior players from Greater Boston colleges were feted.

Billy Barber, a 5-7 end, won the "Unsung Hero" award presented by the Tobacco Table Club of Boston to the New England player who has contributed the most to his team without receiving due publicity.

The season started off on an ominous note. After 17 minutes of the first game with Rhode Island, N.U. trailed 13-0. Johanson called time out, got his team coordinated and on the next play, aided by a knifing Johanson block, fullback Mike Altieri skirted his left end for a gain of about 45 yards. Quarterback Bob Girouard sneaked over from the two five plays later.

Shortly after that Lyons recovered a fumble at midfield to set the stage for an 11-yard touchdown run by Altieri. But N.U. couldn't get the point-after, and the second half was scoreless.

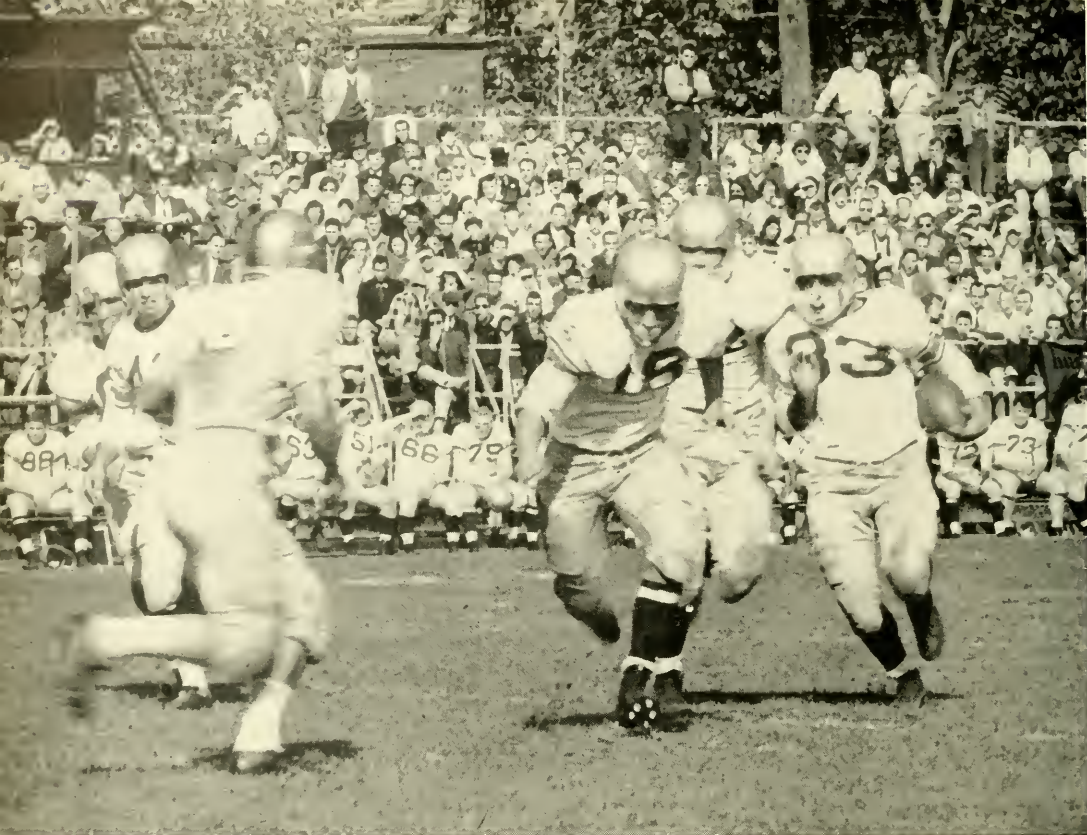

Sophomore John Erickson, normally an end, played quarterback and end against Bridgeport and provided the Huskies with their first victory, scoring one touchdown, passing for a second and setting up the third.

Bridgeport led 13-7 at halftime, with Erickson scoring the lone N.U. touchdown on a fullback plunge. In the second half he threw a 37-yard scoring pass to Bob Piwowarski and later made a 20-yard run to set up a touchdown by Altieri from the six.

Quarterback Les Plumb showed plenty of his flaunted passing ability, but it was his running that gave Springfield a 26-0 victory as he tallied four times. His first came on a one-yard sneak, though it appeared his knee touched the ground outside the end zone when he momentarily fumbled the ball.

His second came when he faded to pass, was hemmed in at the 25, eluded three tacklers and scored standing up. An intercepted pass set up his third, and, with N.U.'s subs in the fourth period Plumb intercepted a pass and streaked 71 yards down the sidelines. His great all-round play and Northeastern's important offense was the difference.

A.I.C. connected on a surprise scoring pass with fourth down and a yard to go for a touchdown to nip the Huskies, 6-0. That play, which caught N.U. flat-footed, came in the second period, and after that the two teams pushed each other back and forth around the midfield area.

Clear the way, here I come.

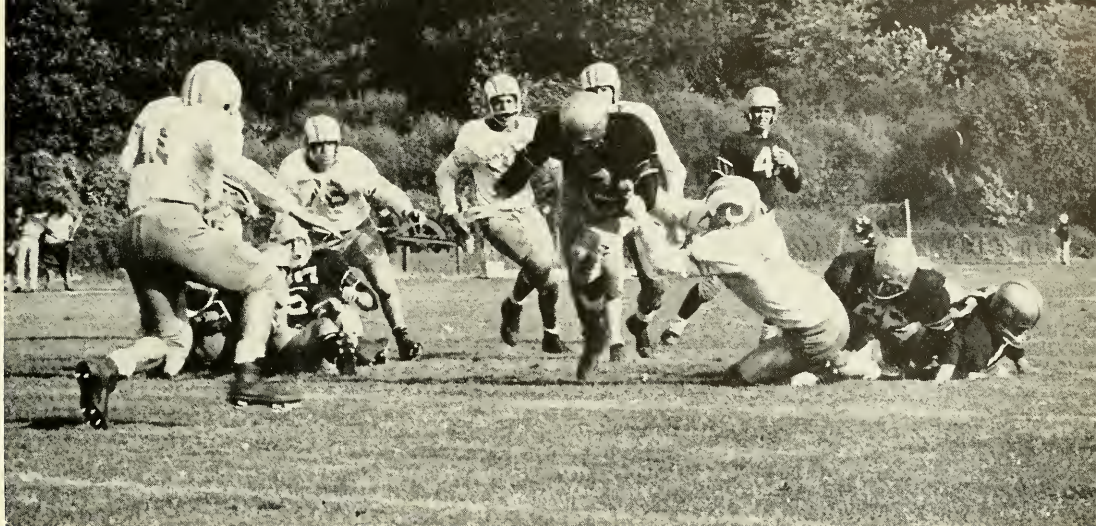

The good earth is close at hand.

Northeastern did get to the A.I.C. six-yard-line, but a 15-yard penalty pushed them back and then the Huskies had another pass intercepted.

Tommy Clarke, who had been hobbling on an injured leg in the first four games, broke loose for three touchdowns as N.U. downed Hofstra, 32-12. He gained 138 yards in 11 carries and scored on runs of one, five and eighty-five yards. Little Barber made an overhead, Willie Mays' type catch of a Girouard pass for another touchdown, and Stan Krol grabbed Dick Conley's 12-yard pass for another.

Now's the time to pass the buck.

The Rams will get you if you don't watch out.

Erickson almost pulled out the UMass game but was tackled on the three-yard line by the last defender on the final play of the game. UMass dominated the first half and took a 6-0 lead. But Zabalski surprised everyone by unveiling a double-wing formation after intermission.

The Huskies marched to the 16 the first time they got their hands on the ball but were held on downs. But on their second series of offensive plays they marched 40 yards with Conley sneaking over from the one.

Charlie Mellen's 85-yard touchdown runback of a punt in the final period gave the Redmen their victory. A clip was plainly evident on the long run and showed up clearly on the game movies, but the officials did not see it — and that's the breaks.

N.U. bounced back the next week to upset Brandeis, despite an awesome passing exhibition by Jimmy Stehlin who completed 23 of 34 passes.

Northeastern trailed by a touchdown going into the last period but scored 13 points and intercepted three passes. Johanson intercepted one of the passes with about 10 minutes left in the game and threw the block that sprang loose Clarke from the 10 for the winning touchdown.

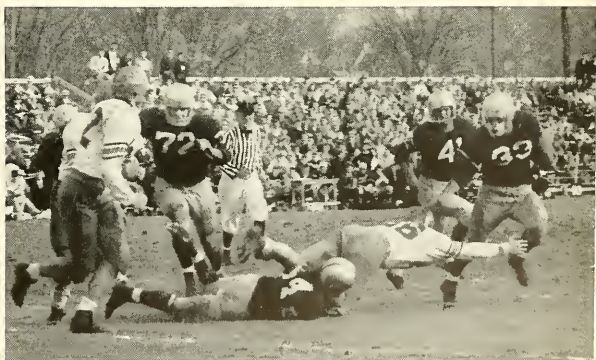

Clarke scored the first touchdown on a 16-yard run, while Altieri scored the other on a 12-yard end sweep.

Connecticut, the Yankee Conference champion and near victor over Yale's Ivy League championship team, had its hands full with the lowly Huskies. UConn had the ball on the N.U. nine in the first period, and its ace halfback Lenny King was thrown for losses four straight times.

N.U. gave away a touchdown early in the third period and in the fourth period, when UConn had the ball on the N.U. 10-yard line, Bo Lyons was ejected from the game. Lyons was hit from behind after the whistle had stopped a play. He whirled and started to throw a punch but quickly decided against it. The referee threw him out for the punch he never threw (?).

A miss is as good as a mile.

Hockey

This was a year darkened by a shadow. It was a good shadow but it cast too bright a light.

The cloud which loomed dark over the 10-1-14 record of this year was the 13-12 total of 1955-56, the Huskies first winning season since 1952. In comparison the 1956-57 skaters fell short of expectations.

If one sole factor were to be singled out as the cause of the record which falls below the .500 mark the ogre might very well be the schedule. During the first full month of ice competition the Huskies played a game on the average of every other day while most Greater Boston League opponents played only half this amount.

Despite the taxing December schedule the Husky Sextet reared its head at the end of the month with a 5-7 total.

The Huskies were outskated in the season's opener at New Haven 8-5 by a strong Yale squad. Four goals for the Ivy League Men in the first period set the way for victory. Left wing, Mark Wenham scored 2 goals to lead the Huskies.

Loss number two came from the Brown sticks at Providence 6-2. Goalie Eddie Kerr boasted as many saves as his Brown opponent but his teammates could only slam one goal into the nets in each of the first two periods, while the Bruins ended period number one with four goals to their credit. Defenseman Ray Bell and Captain Richie Cavanaugh scored the NU marks.

The law of averages finally came to the Huskies rescue in game number three. The full squad turned in some real team work and produced 15 goals before the evening was over to trounce M.I.T. 15-4 at Briggs Field. All three strings had a hand in the lopsided score.

The skaters evened out their record 2-2 by edging out Williams College 4-3. Goalie Kerr was again busy in the nets and secured the win in the final period with some timely saves. Williams drew first blood with a goal in the half-way mark of the first period but Center Cavanaugh retaliated with an unassisted tally to tie the score. Northeastern came up with another goal in the second period and matched Williams 2 goals for 2 in the final frame to win.

The Huskies reversed their last two wins by dropping the next two games to Boston University and Dartmouth, 10-3 and 7-4 respectively, the BU defeat coming in the Red and Black's debut in the Boston Garden.

Alternating again, the Huskies came up with a three

So near and yet so far.

You can't do that!

game win streak over Norwich University, 10-0, Middlebury 3-0, and Princeton 4-2. At Taylor Rink in Norwich the second and third string scored 8 goals in the last two periods, and again in the Middlebury contest the spares provided the three Northeastern goals. Salvucci, playing left wing for the Huskies scored the two winning tallies in the Princeton contest.

The Varsity Icemen were only able to save one game in the Christmas Tournament, that one a 7-2 decision over West Point. Brown and Providence College both drew blood in earlier tournament play.

The play's the thing.

A tired squad skated into January competition which was much lighter than that of the previous month, but the lightened load did not help, fatigue had set in.

Boston College had a field day 12-3 in the first Husky defeat of the New Year and Harvard followed suit by silencing NU sticks 7-0.

The Huskies saved face by winning a 8-5 decision over Tufts at the Garden for their lone victory in January. Mark Wenham and Captain Cavanaugh led the scoring with 4 goals and 4 assists between them.

Despite some fancy goal tending by Eddie Kerr NU dropped another one at the Garden, this time to R.P.I. 8-5. Richie Cavanaugh again spurred the attack with 2 goals and 2 assists.

Crossed sticks in an empty house.

The month of February followed in like manner, the Huskies were victimized by a three game losing slump which began when they were blanked by Boston College 6-0 at the Garden. There was still hope for the Huskies after the first period as the Eagles only led by one goal but in the last half of the game B.C. skated 5 tallies into the Northeastern nets to take the second victory of the season from the Bell boys.

In the Middlebury match which followed the Husky sticks came to life in the last ten minutes for two goals but fell five short of the Vermonters to lose 7-2. Don Salvucci and Right Wing George Lambert scored the NU tallies.

Harvard, too, was able to rack up two wins at the expense of the Northeastern skaters. Their second win was a 5-3 decision at the Garden. Cavanaugh, Bell and Salvucci scored a goal a piece in each period.

Northeastern came back into the win column with a tremendous thud 14-1 against A.I.C. Cavanaugh and Lambert led the fourteen goal barrage with 4 goals each.

The skaters slipped back into the loss column in their next game, dropping a 5-3 decision to Providence College at Providence. Both teams slammed 2 goals into the nets in the first period but only Providence was able to go ahead in the final minutes to get the winning scores. Cavanaugh and Salvucci again combined forces to score the NU points.

Revenge is sweet and the Huskies had that to boast of. This came in the form of a 4-2 victory over Boston University at the Arena. Right Wing Buzz Paresley scored the winning Northeastern goals. This upset Terrier hopes for an N.C.A.A. bid.

A 4-4 deadlock resulted from the University of New Hampshire Husky meet. The Huskies led until the final period 4-3 but The White Mountain Boys came up with the game tying goal to tie things up at 4 all.

The final surge of the season came against Bowdoin on their home territory. NU skated away with 11-2 honors. George Lambert, Buzz Paresky and Jim Walsh led the onslaught for the Huskies.

Loss number 14 came at the hands of Colby 5-8. Left Wing Chet Morrison scored three goals and had one assist to his credit in the final period to dampen Northeastern hopes of victory.

Leading the team once again in scoring was Captain Dick Cavanaugh with a total of 47 points on 19 goals and 28 assists. This is the third year in succession that Richie has been the leading man. Don Salvucci, Art Paresley, George Lambert and Mark Wenham gave Capt. Cav support in that department.

Graduating this year are Captain Cavanaugh, Don Johanson, Dick Smith and Dick Johnson.

Cross Country

By D. J. RYAN

The Northeastern Cross Country Team led by Capt. Bill Spencer wound up with an impressive 5-2 record, losing only to The University of New Hampshire and Providence College.

Wins came at the expense of Boston College, Worcester Poly Tech, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rhode Island and Tufts.

The only dark spot of the otherwise bright season was the poor showing of the team in New England Inter-collegiate Championship competition at Franklin Park. A tired and weary varsity team finished a poor twelfth in a field of seventeen schools.

In the first meet of the year the Huskies were unpleasantly surprised by a strong University of New Hampshire squad.

Team revenge came later in the season when five Huskies passed the New Hampshire star at the New England Championships. Leading man in the losing cause was Mel Hill who proved to be both a valuable and steady runner all season long.

According to Coach Tatton the Rhode Island Meet was the best team victory of the entire season as the club edged the powerful Rams 26-31. All of the top seven counted in the scoring.

Captain Spencer picked up N.U.'s first individual honor with a time of 19:37 as he led the team to its first victory of the year over Boston College by a score of 23-36. Rounding out the top five were Mel Hill, Tom Lacey, Mack Giovanni and Dick Wilsack, all of whom were in the top seven.

The following week, Giovanni with an explosive burst of speed won the individual honors as the team pasted Worcester Poly Tech with a 'grand slam,' a perfect 15-50. Not only did the team take the first five places but they also placed sixth, seventh and eighth.

Last year's captain, Tom Lacey, chalked up his first triumph of the season as the team beat M.I.T. 48-21 at Franklin Park. Spencer and Giovanni followed closely in third and fourth spots respectively. Once again the team had five of the top seven places with the Hill brothers, Mel and George, rounding out the group in fifth and sixth spots.

The second loss of the season was to Providence College who picked up an automatic victory by placing one-two-three. The first N.U. runner over the finish line was Lacey who staggered in fourth with a bad case of cramps. Spencer, Giovanni, Wilsack and Hill comprised the top five in the losing cause.

In the final dual meet of the season against Tufts College Spencer and Giovanni tied for the coveted first place position with the creditable time of 21:10. Dick Wilsack finished a strong fifth, followed by Mel Hill and Jerry Boyle.

Mel Hill was elected Captain of the 1957 squad.

Graduating senior letter men are George Campot, Tom Lacey and D. J. Ryan.

First row: A. MacDonald, T. Lacey, C. Miller, J. Maria (Capt.), J. McCarron, B. Spencer, M. Giovanni, G. Boyle. Second row: R. Wilsack, M. Hill, J. McCarthy, N. Dempsey, W. Kilmain, M. Rauseo, R. Kilmain. Third row: Prof. Tatton (Coach), G. Hill, C. Hilton, T. Greland, M. Ferragamo, H. Peterson, E. Rollins.

Track

By EDWARD ROLLINS

A post season victory over Brown University at Northeastern's cage provided a fitting finish to another indoor track season. Coach Tatton's pre-season optimism now seems justified as the team boasted a 6 win, 3 loss record.

The returning lettermen provided a firm basis on which the squad could be built. Led by Capt. Joe Maria, Charlie Miller, John McCarthy, Jerry Downey, Tom Lacey, Jack McCarron, Warren Kennedy, Mike Ferragamo and Tom Greland, the tracksters toppled Holy Cross, Providence, U. of New Hampshire, MIT, U. of Connecticut and Brown. Only Tufts, Maine, and Bates proved too strong.

Charlie Miller, reigning New England 220 yd. dash king returned to win 7 out of 8 starts in his specialty; Miller totalled 90½ points for the season. Bill Spencer ran his way to 54½ points and Capt. Joe Maria's high jumping and hurdling earned him 48 points.

The Huskies ran into trouble in their first two meets. Tufts took advantage of their weakness in the field events to score a 60-44 win at the En Yew Cage. In the second meet at the cage, the Huskies came ⅓ of a point short of upsetting a highly rated Bates squad. Northeastern led at the end of the meet in the cage, 56⅓ to 51 2/3. The only event remaining was the 440 relay which was to be run at the Knights of Columbus games at the Garden that night. A hasty anchor led by Rudolf Smith gave Bates a first in the relay and a 56 2/3 to 56⅓ win over the Northeasterns.

Then the Huskies found themselves. A five meet win skein was launched by En Yews' 59⅓ to 53 2/3 upset victory over Holy Cross. This meet was also won on the final event, the relay. Northeastern's team of Jerry Downey, Jack McCarron, Neil Dempsey and Charlie Miller outspinted Bill Merritt & Co., who is current N.E. 440 yd. Dash Champion, on Miller's blistering anchor Miller also won the broad jump, dash and low hurdles, scoring $16\frac{1}{4}$ points.

Then, the tracksters became stubborn; they refused to be beaten. Methodically, they trampled Providence College 90 to 23; the U. of New Hampshire 72 to 47; MIT 66 to 47; and Connecticut 79 to 33, all in the cage.

In the final scheduled meet of the season the squad traveled to Orono, Maine to face a strong Black Bear team—too strong, for the Pine Tree Staters handed the Huskies their third loss $74\frac{1}{2}$ to $51\frac{1}{2}$.

Now we're back to where we started. In an unscheduled post-season meeting, the Huskies easily downed Brown 73-30 to cap the indoor season. The team had a month to rest before the upcoming outdoor season started at the U. of Conn.

The leading individual scorers and their point totals were as follows:

| | | | |
|----------|------------------|-----------|----|
| Miller | 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ | Ferragomo | 33 |
| Downey | 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ | Greland | 32 |

Flying high.

A run for your points.

If I had the wings of an angel.

If the indoor season began with a pistol's report, the outdoor season began with a bus' groan; the reluctant sigh of the tracksters' bus which faded in the last lap of the Boston-Storrs, Conn. trip. After arriving 45 minutes late (in another bus) En Yew proceeded to repeat their indoor victory by downing the rival Huskies 73 to 64.

On April 17, the Huskies journeyed to Kingston, R.I. to face the strong U. of R.I. team which later in the season annexed the Yankee Conference Track Championship Crown. The Red and Black was turned back in its first loss of the season, 90 to 45. The Huskies dominated the running events, but failed to win a field event against the Rams.

In their third outdoor meet of the season, N.U. tackled Bates and Brandeis with the former as host. With Brandeis taking points away from Northeastern rather than Bates, the Huskies found themselves 9 points shy of victory with Bates scoring 77 points to N.U.'s 69 and Brandeis' 18.

The following week, the Tattonmen met Tufts and Bowdoin in another tri-meet at Tufts. Jack McCarron and John McCarthy both suffered pulled muscles, and were forced to drop out of their races; this gave the opponents the edge they needed with Tufts winning on 56 points to 55 for Bowdoin and 52 for En Yew.

Both McCarron and McCarthy were lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Northeastern suffered its third loss of the season at the hands of Springfield College. The absence of McCarron and McCarthy plus the Gymnasts' strength in the field events proved too much.

one hundred seventy-eight

In the final dual meet of the season, the Huskies downed MIT at Briggs Field 86 to 49. Charlie Miller romped in both the 100 and 200 yd. dashes to register his fifth double win in six outdoor starts.

On May 24 and 25, the New England Intercollegiates were held at Brown. Northeastern was represented by Miller in the 100 and 220, Sophomore Bryant Rollins in the 440, Tom Lacey in the 880, Clarence Hilton in the two-mile, Capt. Joe Maria in the High Jump and Jerry Downey in the Broad Jump.

The Huskies totaled 16 points to finish 6th in a field of 27 strong teams. Miller copped seconds in the dash and 220 in the fastest times of his track career; 9.7 in the dash and 20.8 in the 220. Downey, a Junior, placed a close second in the B.J. with a leap of 23' 27/8", his best so far. Lacey and Hilton each placed fourth in their respective events to complete N.U.'s scoring.

The first game of the season was the longest and the closest. Connecticut edged Northeastern 2 to 1 in 13 innings.

Bill Possial pitched Boston University to a 16 to 0 win over Northeastern in the first G.B.L. game.

Ron Ayotte, Dowd and Erickson combined to drive in ten runs as the Huskies won their first game drubbing Brandeis 21 to 8. Dowd and Erickson both belted 400 foot triples, and Ayotte had a bases loaded double.

A Northeastern rally fell short in the ninth as B.U. edged the home team 5 to 4. The Huskies made the game close with three runs in the final frame.

With Dave Eason and Fran Brien sharing the pitching, Northeastern shaded Worcester Polytech 3 to 1. A double by Dowd and a single by Erickson scored the winning run.

Eason, younger brother of Don and Ron, who starred for Northeastern for four years, won three of four games during the season.

Tufts collected 5 walks and 23 hits to trounce the Huskies 16 to 5. Northeastern later reversed the defeat by winning 6 to 1.

Bob Hasting's two home runs paced Harvard to a 13 to 3 victory.

Erickson capped a five run rally with a homer as Northeastern defeated Clark University 7 to 1. Whittier, making his first start, scattered six singles in nine innings.

Fiske's eighth inning home run powered Northeastern to a 4 to 3 win over Bowdoin. The losers made only four hits off the combined pitching of Erickson and Eason as they suffered their first defeat. Erickson also had a double and single in three at bats.

Bowdoin reversed the decision edging Northeastern 7 to 6 in ten innings. The winning run scored on a fielder's choice. Dowd pitched six innings allowing one earned run and led the offense with three hits.

Eason won his third game as the Huskies trounced Bates 11 to 5. Bob Girouard hit a three run home run in the first inning. Paul McCarthy, playing in place of Conley, had three hits.

Northeastern swamped Brandeis for the second time 16 to 4. Big batters were Tom Clarke and Dick Harvey with three runs batted in each and Erickson, a two run homer.

one hundred seventy-nine

George Dowd, the pitching ace.

Warren Fiske, the batting king.

The Huskies had two games with Yankee Conference opposition shortened due to rain. Six unearned runs enabled Rhode Island to play to a 7 to 7 tie. Catcher Lou Boyer's bases loaded single was the big hit for Northeastern.

New Hampshire trimmed Northeastern 8 to 2 in seven innings as Eason lost his first game.

Dowd pitched a two hitter stopping Tufts 6 to 1. The game was tied 1 to 1 going into the ninth. McCarthy, pinch hitting for Clarke, delivered a bases loaded triple, and Fiske iced it with a two run single.

Northeastern played errorless ball behind Whittier's five hit pitching to defeat MIT 8 to 1. The Huskies blanked Tech the next week 4 to 0 as Pete McKee and Dowd combined to allow only six hits.

Ralph Lumentti struck out 11 including the first six men he faced, as Massachusetts took the Huskies 10 to 4.

Dick Beradino put on a one man show as he led Holy Cross to a 14 to 4 win over Northeastern. Beradino had six runs batted in with five hits. Conley drove in two for Northeastern.

The Huskies upset Springfield 7 to 4 to put the Gymnasts in a playoff for the NCAA District One representative. A grand slam homer by Erickson in the fourth gave the win to Whittier, who allowed only one run in six innings of relief.

Northeastern closed the season in impressive fashion sweeping a double header from Boston College.

Dowd limited the Eagles to three hits winning the first game 4 to 3. The Northeastern captain also drove in two runs with a pair of doubles. Conley drove in the other runs with a two run single.

Behind Whittier's four hit pitching Northeastern blasted Boston College 13 to 1 in the second game. Dowd punched a double down the right field line in the fifth to score two runs.

The Husky captain, besides hurling a three hitter, collected three doubles and a single and three rbi's in his final collegiate games.

Northeastern played better than .500 over the regular season and had a 7-4 record in the G.B.L. league. The prospects of a better season next year are bright with many starters returning.

Captain George Dowd, selected to the G.B.I. Stars, starred for the Huskies as an outfielder and a pitcher. Dowd had the lowest earned run average, 1.62, while winning four games. He struck out 51 men in 72 innings. Offensively Dowd belted seven doubles and two triples to pace the team.

Three sport star John Erickson also worked from the mound and the outfield. He led the team in home runs with four while driving in 19 runs and scoring 19.

Shortstop Warren Fiske boosted his last season's anemic .103 batting average to a team leading .321. Fiske, who was selected to the Greater Boston League All Stars, led Northeastern in hits (21), runs batted in (22), assists (73) and stolen bases (10).

Northeastern traveled to Springfield for its first away game. The Gymnast overpowered the Northeastern quintet 87-58 as four Springfield starters hit for double figures. The team totaled 31 field goals. Sophomore Dick Stewart was the only Northeastern man to score double figures with 10.

Dino Martin's Boston College five administered defeat number five when they downed the Huskies 63-49. Northeastern left the court with a 24-22 advantage at the half, having scored 18 of the 24 points via the foul line. In the second half they failed to hold the lead as they displayed the poorest shooting of the season, making only 12 of 60 shots on field goal attempts. Colby and forward Frank Krypel combined to lead the scoring with 15 points each.

The Huskies ran their winless string to six as they dropped a 77-54 decision to Brandeis. Rudy Finderson paced the Lawyers with 24 points. John Erickson 16 and Joe Pumphret 11, led the scoring for the Huskies.

Northeastern finally got the taste of victory as they downed undefeated Harvard in one of the top upsets of the season in the Boston area. The Huskies took a 66-60 measure of the Crimson at the home court before a capacity crowd.

The N.U. five broke their season-long scoring slump by recording 23 field goals in 48 attempts and 20 of 31 from the foul post. Colby led the attack with 25 points. He was followed by Dick Stewart with 18. Frank Krypel played an important part in the victory with 16 rebounds.

Northeastern journeyed across town to Boston University to pick up loss number seven 87-55. Matt Zunic's Terriers displayed too much power, scoring 35 field goals against N.U.'s 19. Double figure men for the Huskies were Colby 16 and Stewart 12.

Coach Zabalski's quintet next visited Maine to face the Bobcats. Maine hit on all cylinders and ran up a season high 97 points defeating the Huskies 97-70. Maine led 50-21 at the half. They tallied 37 of 70 shots on field goal attempts. Erickson topped the Red and Black scorers with 20 followed by Bill Colby with 19.

Two sophomores provided the impetus for Northeastern's second win of the season as they defeated the University of New Hampshire 86-81. The Huskies had their most productive night from the floor scoring 31 field goals. Bucky Carlezon and Raoul Piche were the two under classmen who led the attack. Bucky hit for 20 and Piche 14. Captain Russell Sykes scored his season high as he totaled 15 points. Bill Colby rounded out the scoring with 13.

Rhode Island's Billy Van Wegh led the way with 30 points on 13 field goals in 24 attempts as the Rhody Rams downed the Huskies at the home gym 77-65. Four N.U. men hit for double figures led by Colby 19, Pumphret 15, Al Shields and Carlezon 10.

Northeastern dropped its tenth game to Tufts College 80-64 at Tufts. The Jumbos hit with deadly accuracy and left the court at halftime with a 37-28 advantage to coast to the win. Colby ropicd the Northeastern scorers with 20, Piche followed with 11.

The Red and Black continued their losing by dropping a 60-58 squeaker to Middlebury. Charlie Sykes scored with a one-hander with less than 30 seconds to go for the win. Sykes accounted for three of the last five points and paced the scorers with 20 points. Northeastern scoring was led by Colby 17, Erickson 14 and Pumphret 10.

The Huskies lost their twelfth game of the season to a vastly superior squad from St. Michaels 96-74. Led by Cieplicki who tallied 24, the giants from Vermont scored 36 times from the floor and 24 from the foul line. Three men hit for the 64 of the 74 Northeastern points. Colby had 23, Krypel 22 and Erickson 19. This trio also scored 44 of the first 46 Husky points.

Caught unaware.

Reaching for the sky.

Suffolk University provided Northeastern with its third victory of the campaign as the travel-weary Red and Black returned home after an unsuccessful tour of Maine and Vermont.

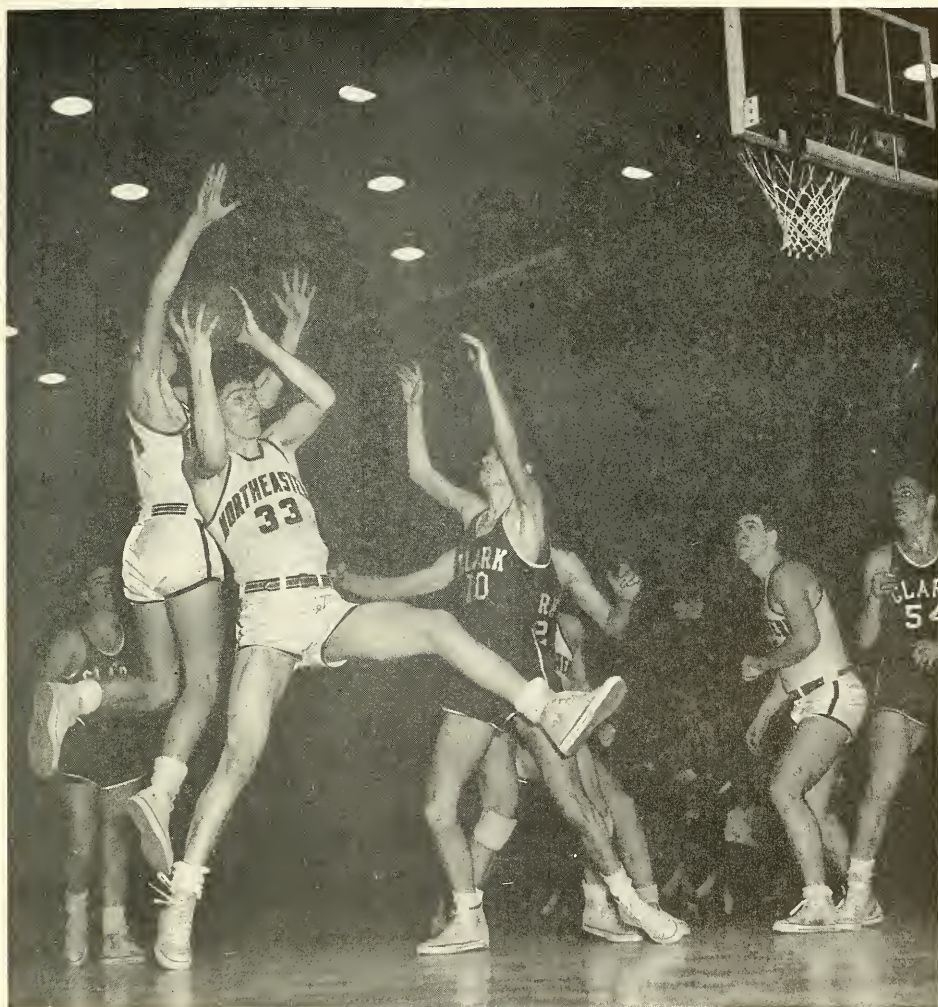

Colby led the 86-82 onslaught tallying 33 points for the season high for an N.U. player. The Huskies had their shooting eye sharpened for the affair and hit for 32 of 69 field goal attempts. Sharing the scoring honors with Colby were Erickson and Shields with 22 and 17 respectively. In the second half Colby and Erickson put on a dual scoring show as they tallied 17 of the first 18 points scored.

Northeastern put together its only win streak by defeating Bates 83-82 in an overtime thriller at the Bates College gym. Erickson, who scored the four deciding markers and Joe Curran, who provided two foul conversions, helped pace the overtime win. Erickson scored 26 points in all. He was followed by Colby 21, Krypel 14 and Shields 10.

Northeastern traveled to Colby College to meet two foes. The entire squad, coach included, came down with an intestinal gripe. Colby put the pressure on with a full court press as they hit for 30 field goals for a .445 clip to score a 86-68 victory over the grippe-stricken Huskie quintet. Again Bill Colby and Erickson combined to pace the Huskies scoring with 24 and 20 points respectively. Colby displayed a scoring show for the opposing fans dropping in one handers from the key hole. He ripped off 12 of the last 14 points scored at the close of the first half.

On home ground again Northeastern chalked up its fifth win by defeating Clark University in a hard fought battle 77-73. Colby continued his fine scoring, hitting for 18 of his 26 in the first half of play. He hit a torrid .706 clip with 12 of 17 field goals. He was supported by Erickson 21, Pumphret 12 and Shields 10.

The big one.

The play's here, boys!

Worcester Polytechnic Institute scored a last minute verdict over Northeastern on a one hand score by Stevens at the N.U. gym. Pumphret topped the scorers with 22 points. He was backed up by Colby 18 and Shields 11.

Leading with just about a minute to go at the Rockwell Cage fans saw MIT score five straight points to edge the Huskies 69-68. Holding a four point advantage with three minutes of play remaining the Huskies were unable to score again. MIT's Muraskin and Goldstein tallied a field goal each to tie the game at 68-68. A foul conversion by Larson with a minute to go provided the winning margin for the Techmen.

MIT could score only 19 times from the floor, but took advantage by scoring 31 fouls of the 45 committed by the Huskies. Northeastern lost the service of four of its starters through fouls.

one hundred eighty-four

Boston University scored its second victory of the season over Northeastern with 74-64 win at the local gym. Jack Leaman led the Terriers with 21 points. Nineteen came in the first half. Pumphret led the Husky attack with 22, Colby followed with 21 and Erickson with 10.

Northeastern revenge an earlier defeat at the hands of the University of Maine as the Huskies broke the gym and team record with a 109-90 win before the largest crowd of the season.

Billy Colby hit for 31 points falling four short of his 1955-56 all-time high at Northeastern of 444. Pumphret scored his season high with 25 points. Krypzel with 23, Erickson 19 and Shields with 15 rounded out the scoring as all five starters scored in double figures. Colby and Pumphret scored the first 21 points for Northeastern.

At the Annual Sports Banquet the team elected Frank Krypzel to represent the squad as Captain for the 1957-58 season.

Can you top that!

Varsity Rifle Club

The Rifle Club is one of the largest clubs at the University, with 563 members, seventy percent of whom have received National Rifle Association Marksmanship qualification. The club is divided into four parts—the Varsity Team, the R.O.T.C. Team, the Freshman Team, and the Women's Team.

The Varsity Team boasts a 27-11 record in postal and shoulder to shoulder matches against such foes as Yale, Tufts, Harvard, Boston College, and Dartmouth. The team placed second in the Greater Boston Collegiate Rifle League.

The R.O.T.C. Team has the distinction of being undefeated during the 1956-57 season.

A won and lost record of 5 and 3 shows the combined efforts of the Freshman Team. The able Frosh placed fifth in the nation in the National Freshman Postal Match.

Despite the loss of several top sharpshooters, the Women's Team went on to win five of nine matches and placed sixth in the National Intercollegiate Prone Postal Match.

Hus-Skiers

Mid-October marked the beginning of the ski season when the Hus-Skiers went mountain climbing to limber up for more serious work ahead.

The skiing season opened officially with "Perles' Prom", a get-together at the home of the club advisor in January.

Early in January the ski team held try-outs at Boston Peak in North Andover, and every weekend thereafter there was a race somewhere in New England against such colleges as Boston University, Brown, Tufts, Keene Teachers', Princeton, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Holy Cross.

February 6 marked the annual Miller Movie "Have Skis, Will Travel", proceeds of which were used to finance ski team activities.

The Annual Winter Carnival took place on the first weekend in March at Spruce Mountain in Jackson, New Hampshire, highlighted by a torch-light slalom, crowning of the Carnival Queen and the annual club "giant slalom" race.
